Candidate Bio for ACWA Region 3 Board of Directors

Sean Barclay has served as General Manager of the Tahoe City Public Utility District (TCPUD) since 2017. During his tenure as General Manager, the TCPUD has been focused on acquiring and consolidating small water systems, and actively engaged at the regional, state and federal level on developing funding opportunities for improvements to water system infrastructure in rural, wildland urban interface communities.

Sean brings a unique perspective on both the operational and financial challenges associated with consolidating small, investor-owned water systems and has been actively engaged with California State Water Resources Control Board in their recent efforts to incentivize water system consolidation.

Sean has been involved with issues surrounding State conservation requirements and the unique way in which Lake Tahoe area water purveyors can be impacted due to a "one-size fits all" approach – whether that be related to differing conditions in actual ground water/surface water availability or impacts from a tourist-based population both on actual water use and on water use reporting.

Sean actively works alongside other regional water purveyors to educate and inform local, state and federal legislators on the need for funding for water infrastructure for firefighting as a critical component of a multi-faceted approach to wildfire mitigation in the wildland urban interface. These efforts have included meeting with legislators and key staff members in Sacramento and Washington D.C.

Sean has served as an actively engaged member of the ACWA Region 3 Board of Directors since 2021, with a particular focus on the issues above, as well as representing the region on the ACWA Headwaters Workgroup. Sean is excited about continuing to serve on the Region 3 Board as a representative of the TCPUD, as well as the other Region 3 ACWA members.
